Global challenges.

Today we are going to talk about global challenges. Global challenges are negative. We call them “global” because they affect the whole world. Some examples of global issues are war, global warming, starvation and lack of education. Often if there is a war, many people become refugees. Global warming is melting the polar-ice, some animals like the polar bear might become extinct. Starvation is a big problem, and many people have to go to bed hungry everyday, because they do not have something to eat. In some countries girls do not get to go to school. Children without an education usually end up poor . Many of the global challenges are unfair and we need to work together to fix them.

GLOBAL SOCIAL PROBLEMS.

1.- HOMELESSNESS.

Homelessness is the condition of people without a permanent dwelling. Homeless people are often unable to get and keep regular, safe, secure and good housing. The legal definition of homeless varies from country to country. The term homeless may also include people sleep in a homeless shelter, a motel, a vehicle, cardboard boxes or a tent city.

According to the UK homelessness charity crisis , a home is not just a physical space. It also provides roots, identity, security, and a sense of belonging and a place of emotional wellbeing.

2.-Domestic Violence

This is a pattern of harmful behavior by one person against another within the family setting. Domestic abuse occurs across society, regardless of age, gender, race, wealth, and geography. This can take a number of forms, including physical, verbal emotional and economic. The figures show that it consist mainly of violence by men against women. In 2012 an indian study found that 92 percent of women reported having experienced some form of violence in public spaces in their lifetime.

Globally, 1 in 3 women experience physical, verbal or emotional violence by close relatives.
